

For Doctoral Researchers: Adding personal study unit in PSP

PSP- instructions on how to add personal study unit and get it approved

- Field -specific studies are planned in advance together with the principal supervisor as personal study units in the personal study plan (PSP) (instruction, please see below).
- Field specific course completed elsewhere, scientific meeting, research visit or teaching task are added to PSP as personal study units.

Instructions to add a personal study unit

- Move to the PSP and open tab Selecting studies. (Picture 1)
- To plan or add study attainment of course completed elsewhere, scientific meeting, research visit or teaching task, click the plus-sign in the blue bar of Optional field-specific studies.
- Window Personal course opens. Add name of the course in English and in Finnish. If you do not have Finnish translation available, add information in English in both language boxes. Please note, that the study unit's name that you have entered will be directly included in your official transcript of records. Do not use course codes.
