

3.3.1 New publication channels

As a rule, publication channels will not be evaluated by the panels if publication activities are less than one year old, or if there are not enough issues or publications in the channel that allow content to be evaluated.